

Contributions

Paul M. Hebert

Date: 1933-1945

Repository Citation

Paul M. Hebert, Contributions, Nuremberg Trials Documents (1933-1945).
Available at: https://digitalcommons.law.lsu.edu/nuremberg_docs/43

This Document is brought to you for free and open access by the Hebert Nuremberg Collection at LSU Law Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Nuremberg Trials Documents by an authorized administrator of LSU Law Digital Commons. For more information, please contact kreed25@lsu.edu.

But some of the contributions are not so innocent in character. For example, after the Munich agreement, Farben made funds available for the Sudeten German Free Corps. This was done with knowledge of the activities of the Sudeten Free Corps which was an important part of the plan of aggression against Czechoslovakia. —

* * *
Farben's willingness to cooperate in the master plan of arming Germany for her wars of aggression is evidenced in the establishment, organization, tasks and activities of the Vermittlungstelle W. in Berlin. This office was established in 1935. Krauch participated in its organization — and was its first director. This is in itself ample indication that the Vermittlungstelle W. was not as unimportant as the defendants would now have us believe. It was clearly a military liaison agency assigned the task of facilitating and coordinating the armament activities within Farben. The security measures initiated by Vermittlungstelle W. and the emphasis on secrecy is evidence of the importance of the military economic organizations with which these defendants were dealing.

But some of the contributions are not so innocent in character. For example, after the Munich agreement, Farben made funds available for the Sudeten German Free Corps. This was done with knowledge of the activities of the Sudeten Free Corps which was an important part of the plan of aggression against Czechoslovakia. —

Farben's willingness to cooperate in the master plan of arming Germany for her wars of aggression is evidenced in the establishment, organization, tasks and activities of the Vermittlungstelle W. in Berlin. This office was established in 1935. Krauch participated in its organization — and was its first director. This is in itself ample indication that the Vermittlungstelle W. was not as unimportant as the defendants would now have us believe. It was clearly a military liaison agency assigned the task of facilitating and coordinating the armament activities within Farben. The security measures initiated by Vermittlungstelle W. and the emphasis on secrecy is evidence of the importance of the military economic organizations with which these defendants were dealing.