EDITORIAL

THE LAW SCHOOL

The LAW SCHOOL opened its thirty-fourth session with an enrollment of 134 students—57 in the first year; 31 in the second year; 33 in the third year; nine in the last year of the four year curriculum and one graduate student. This represents approximately the same number in attendance as last year. For the first time, nine students are receiving instruction in their fourth regular year of attendance. The large majority of law students appear to prefer taking the prescribed three years of pre-legal work, followed by three years study of law. In fact, nearly half of the members of the present first year class received Bachelor's degrees prior to entering the Law School.

Wex S. Malone has been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Professor Jerome Hall. Professor Hall has
